Information:

Extralink Kids is a multi-level car park with an electric lift, ramps and an extensive play route. A child can park vehicles on different floors, drive them down the ramps and move around a mat printed with an urban scene, streets and junctions. The set includes cars, a helicopter, signs and a landing pad, allowing children to create interesting stories and develop their imagination. The interactive lift with colourful buttons makes play more varied, and the large structure encourages shared activity for several children.

Full product description

Multi-level car park

Extralink Kids is an extensive car park with several levels, ramps and an electric lift. The set allows you to create scenarios related to parking, travelling between floors and street traffic, offering space for the included toy cars.

Extended track

Winding ramps connect the individual levels of the garage and allow the toy cars to move down the structure. The mat printed with streets, junctions and buildings extends the play area beyond the car park and helps create city stories.

Play with toy cars

The child can place the vehicles on selected floors, drive them down the ramps and move along the roads printed on the mat. The variety of set elements encourages them to invent routes, traffic situations and further adventures independently.

Electric lift

The electric lift allows toy cars to be transported between the levels of the car park. A separate panel with colourful buttons lets you operate the mechanism and introduces an interactive element to the play, adding variety to moving vehicles around the garage.

Shared play

The extensive structure allows several children to use different parts of the car park at the same time. One child can operate the lift, while another drives the toy cars along the ramps and mat, creating further play scenarios together.

Urban scenery

The car park is complemented by toy cars, a helicopter, a road mat and signs that help create an urban scene. The landing pad on the top level expands the play with aviation stories, while the multi-storey garage offers space for parking and organising vehicle traffic.
