Full product description

Safe for home and office

Extralink 4-RC is a safe designed for storing documents, cash, jewellery, keys and other valuable items. The metal casing helps protect the contents from unauthorised access, and its simple design means the safe fits well in a flat, office, reception area or company back office.

Electronic panel

The keypad panel allows the safe to be opened quickly using a code. This solution makes everyday use easier without the need to reach for a key each time. Clear buttons make the safe convenient to operate at home, in a shop, office or service point.

Practical interior

The inside of the safe offers space for items that are worth keeping under control, yet close at hand. You can store a wallet, documents, data carriers, keepsakes, business accessories or small electronics inside. The compartment layout makes it easy to organise the contents.

Solid construction

The steel casing increases resistance to everyday use and helps protect the contents from accidental access. The door with a locking mechanism ensures a secure close, making the safe a practical piece of equipment for the home or workplace.

Emergency opening

The safe also allows access to the contents in the event of battery discharge or if the code is forgotten. The emergency key lets you open the door when standard electronic operation is not possible. It is a practical backup for everyday use.

Easy installation

The 4-RC model can be placed in a cupboard, wardrobe, desk or another discreet location. The option to secure the safe to the floor or wall helps reduce the risk of it being removed. It is a convenient solution for storing personal and business items.
