Full product description

Extralink Military Combat Survival Tactical Gloves Touch XL - Protection, comfort and versatility in harsh environments.

Designed with functionality in mind, these five-finger gloves provide superior protection, full comfort and freedom of movement. They are ideal for both rough terrain, the shooting range and everyday use in adverse weather conditions.

Protection and comfort in all conditions

The gloves protect your hands from adverse weather conditions, such as cold, wind and moisture. Thanks to non-slip inserts, they provide a secure and stable grip in any situation - whether you are holding the handlebars of a bicycle or using a gun at the shooting range.

Full freedom of movement

The gloves are made of stretchable material that does not restrict movement. Special hems on the knuckles increase flexibility, allowing the fingers to flex freely, which is crucial during precision operations in harsh conditions. Ventilation holes on the inside of the gloves provide optimal air circulation, which keeps hands dry and comfortable.

Stability and security

The gloves are equipped with a sturdy Velcro closure, which ensures stability and a secure fit on the wrist. The wide strap not only stabilizes the gloves, but also stiffens the wrist, which prevents injury during intense activity. The adjustable clasp allows for a perfect custom fit.
