Information:

Extralink Military Tactical Combat Survival Touch Gloves L are durable gloves that provide effective hand protection in harsh conditions, including against cold and wind. The anti-slip inserts guarantee a secure grip, while the ability to operate touch screens increases their practicality for everyday use and in the field. Made from rubber and nylon, they fit the hand well, ensuring comfort even during prolonged wear. The knuckle stitching increases freedom of movement, and the sturdy hook-and-loop fastening stabilises the gloves and supports the wrist, improving safety during intensive use.

Full product description

Extralink Military Tactical Combat Survival Touch L Gloves - Full protection and modern functionality.

Extralink Military Combat Survival Tactical Touch L Gloves are the ideal choice for those who need effective hand protection in harsh conditions, without sacrificing touchscreen capability. These gloves are designed for users who value safety, comfort and modern solutions, ideal for the shooting range, survival trips or everyday challenges.

Protection from harsh conditions

The gloves effectively protect your hands from cold, wind and other adverse weather conditions. Thanks to non-slip inserts, you can be sure of a stable grip in any situation - whether you're holding a gun at the shooting range or riding a bicycle over rough terrain.

High user comfort

Made of durable materials such as rubber and nylon, the gloves fit perfectly to the shape of the hand, ensuring comfort even during prolonged wear. In addition, thanks to the special hem of the knuckles, the gloves do not restrict the movement of the fingers, which allows precise action in any situation.

Stability and grip security

A sturdy Velcro closure ensures that the gloves fit securely on the wrist, minimizing the risk of slipping during intense activities. In addition, a wide Velcro strap stiffens the wrist, which reduces the risk of injury and increases the safety of use.
