Information:

Momcozy BC003 is a discreet double breast milk collector that allows you to collect milk from both breasts at the same time without using a breast pump. Each container has a 90 ml capacity, a lightweight and comfortable silicone design, and a soft, contoured finish for greater wearing comfort. The transparent graduated material makes it easy to monitor the amount of milk, while the stable base and shaped spout help you pour the contents safely without spilling. The product is reusable, BPA-free, easy to clean and resistant to sterilisation, making it a hygienic, economical and eco-friendly solution for breastfeeding mothers.

Full product description

Momcozy BC003 - Innovative double breast milk collector 2 x 90 ml

The Momcozy BC003 Double set is a discreet and highly practical solution created for women who want to make full use of every drop of precious milk from both breasts at the same time. This double collector is designed to effectively collect milk flowing during breastfeeding or in between sessions with a breast pump. Thanks to the lightweight construction of each module (just 82 g) and a total capacity of 180 ml (2 x 90 ml), Momcozy allows you to efficiently collect milk without the need to use a traditional breast pump when milk flows naturally.

Comfort and premium silicone material

The key to comfort is the use of a soft silicone material that adapts perfectly to the shape of both breasts, causing no irritation. Each collector in the set is made of thicker, flexible food-grade silicone, ensuring exceptional comfort for longer wear. The specially widened nipple area (by an additional 5 mm) makes fitting even easier, and the curved design allows the devices to be discreetly placed inside a breastfeeding bra. As a result, every breastfeeding mother can enjoy closeness with her baby while ensuring that breast milk remains clean and ready to serve.

Collecting and storing - Functional containers for precious milk

These transparent containers with a capacity of 90 ml each allow you to monitor the amount of liquid collected in real time thanks to the clear scale. Each Momcozy collector has a stable base, so it can be safely placed on a table after collecting, minimising the risk of accidental leakage or tipping over. This is a reusable product, offering an excellent and economical alternative to disposable nursing pads. The precious milk obtained in this way can then be poured into a bottle or frozen so it can be safely stored for later.

Care and safety - Easy-to-clean silicone

Maintaining the highest hygiene standards with Momcozy is extremely simple. The devices are completely BPA-free (standard BP), which guarantees that breast milk remains clean and safe for the baby. The smooth interior means that each collector is easy to clean, as it has no dead spots where residue could accumulate. The container can be cleaned in a dishwasher or washed in warm water (below 100°C). The high-quality silicone is resistant to frequent sterilising, making the Momcozy set an investment in a durable and hygienic solution for the entire lactation period.

Easy monitoring of milk volume and stable use

Thanks to the fully transparent material, Momcozy allows you to monitor the process of collecting liquid from both sides in real time. Each mother can easily check how much milk has been collected at any given moment, which makes planning the next feed easier. The specially contoured spout means that you can express and pour the precious milk into a bottle without the risk of spillage, helping you keep things tidy in any situation. This double collector is not just a tool, but above all comfort and the assurance that the process of collecting milk is controlled and completely hygienic.
