Full product description

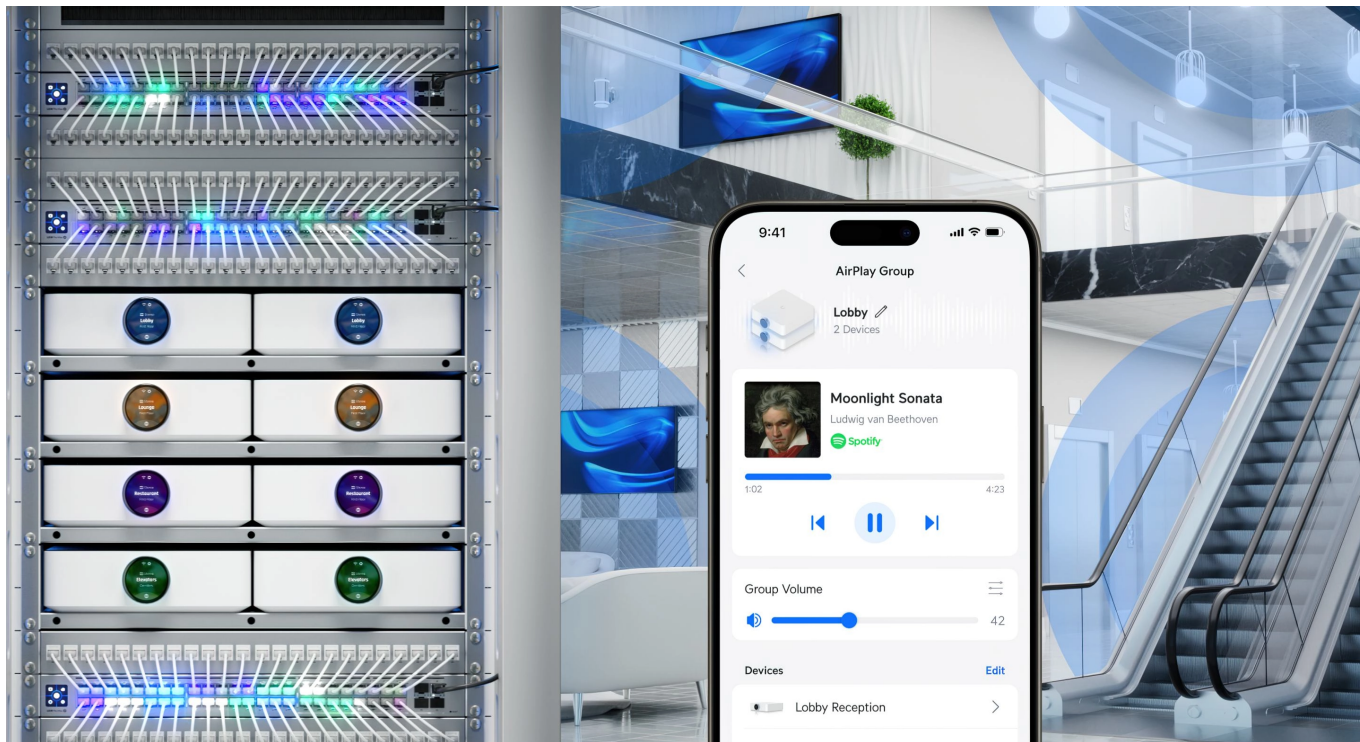

Ubiquiti UPL-Amp-B - audio amplifier with concrete power

The Ubiquiti UPL-Amp-B in black is a product that gives you full control over your home audio system. With integration with UniFi Play, support for Spotify Connect, AirPlay2 and Dolby Atmos, this amplifier will work well in both the living room and professional media space. It's for those who go for power, functionality and expandability of up to 32 devices within a single channel.

Power you can trust

The UPL-Amp-B offers 260 watts at 4 ohms, which translates into clear, dynamic sound even at high loads. Support for amplifier class D means efficient power and heat management. The unit operates stably in a variety of conditions - from -5 to 40°C.

Cooperation with well-known platforms

This product supports AirPlay2, Spotify Connect and Soundtrack Your Brand, giving you the freedom to stream audio. So you can use your own music sources without additional adapters. You simply connect and listen.

Expanded audio options

Support for Dolby Atmos, Dolby TrueHD, Dolby Digital Plus and Stereo PCM gives you full control over your surround sound. Whether you're watching a movie, gaming or listening to music, this product will adapt to your needs. Built-in HDMI eARC, RCA and subwoofer output add to the system's flexibility.

Thoughtful design and connectivity

Two Ethernet ports and a Wi-Fi ac (2.4G / 5G) module guarantee a secure connection. Support for up to 32 PowerAmps allows you to create an advanced multi-room audio system. The black body fits into most arrangements and is unobtrusive.
