How do you clean breast pump parts after each use?

Every silicone and plastic part that comes into contact with milk requires careful care. Instead of waiting until you get home, you can use the Momcozy product to pre-clean the breast pump parts immediately after finishing a pumping session. The spray penetrates hard-to-reach areas, preparing the breast pump parts after each use for the later, full sanitising process. Simply spray the chosen surface, which makes subsequent proper washing much easier and ensures that every bottle and funnel is free from dried residue.

Safe ingredients and protection for your breast pump

The Momcozy formula is based on natural plant ingredients, such as grapefruit oil and baking soda. The product is free from alcohol, parabens, bleach and ammonia, making it completely safe for babies. Proper cleaning of parts with this spray protects your breast pump from bacterial growth. Regular use helps avoid situations where a part of the device becomes discoloured or permanently soiled. The product works perfectly as support before traditional washing, guaranteeing that your breast pump will always be hygienically clean.

A universal accessory for Momcozy M5, S9 and other models

The spray has been tested for compatibility with the most popular models, such as the Momcozy M5 and the S9 series. Regardless of the brand of your breast pump, the liquid safely cleans membranes, valves and other breast pump parts. Thanks to the compact 250 ml bottle, this accessory fits in any bag. Before use, it is worth checking what your device's instructions say, but the gentle Momcozy formula is usually safer for delicate silicones than an aggressive dishwasher, which can weaken suction through premature wear of the materials.

Comprehensive washing of breast pump parts and drying

The process of caring for your breast pump with Momcozy becomes intuitive. After spraying and wiping the accessories, remember that full sterilisation and drying complete the hygiene routine. The spray helps to wash breast pump parts where running water is not available, removing protein and fat residues from breast milk. Remember that a clean pump and an unobstructed suction part are the guarantee of effective feeding. Regular cleaning of parts with the Momcozy spray is an investment in the durability of the equipment and your baby's health.
