Information:

The Momcozy silicone bottle brush set is a practical and hygienic solution for parents, making it easier to thoroughly clean bottles, teats, tubes and breast pump parts. The patented Push-Press technology creates a dense foam, increasing washing efficiency and reducing cleaning time. The soft food-grade silicone bristles effectively remove deposits without scratching surfaces. The set is free from BPA, PVC and phthalates, dries faster than traditional sponges and helps limit bacterial growth. It includes interchangeable heads for different uses, non-slip handles, a practical hanging loop and a travel bag, ensuring convenience at home and on the go.

Full product description

Momcozy silicone bottle brush set

The Momcozy bottle brush set offers a practical solution for every parent, making the daily hygiene of feeding accessories easier. Thanks to the patented Push-Press design, the silicone bristles create a thick foam, which improves washing efficiency compared with standard brushes. This is a tailored 360-degree cleaning tool set that cares for every nook and cranny of the bottle, teat and tube. Made from safe, food-grade Silicone material, it enables hygienic, scratch-free removal of residue.

Innovative Push-Press system

Traditional silicone brushes often struggle to generate foam efficiently, which reduces washing effectiveness. Momcozy's design solves this problem with a press-to-foam structure. This technology makes it easy and quick to obtain stable foam, which helps to thoroughly remove dirt. A simple press activates the foaming action, significantly reducing working time and delivering proper hygienic results. This is a key feature that sets this product apart from other silicone brushes available on the market.

Material safety and surface protection

The brush bristles are made from soft Silicone material, which is effective at removing milk residue while remaining gentle on cleaned surfaces. This means washing does not cause scratches on bottles, breast pump parts or other baby accessories. This is especially important for polycarbonate bottles and flexible teats. In addition, the entire set is made from raw materials free from harmful chemicals such as BPA, PVC and phthalates, ensuring proper health protection during every feed.

Versatile cleaning tool set

The Momcozy brand offers a comprehensive approach to the hygiene of baby accessories. The set includes several heads that meet a variety of care needs, allowing access to all corners and crevices, regardless of the diameter of the container. In addition to the main brush for bottles and breast pumps, it includes an angled head suited to teats and slim brushes for tubes and narrow openings. This ensures thorough cleaning of all components, which is essential for maintaining full sterility.

Ergonomics, storage and transport

The design of the accessories also takes user convenience into account. The brush handles have a non-slip coating, ensuring a secure grip even with wet hands. A practical loop allows the handles to be hung up, which supports hygienic storage and faster drying. The brush structure is detachable, and its design, together with the included travel bag, makes storage and transport easy. As a result, bottle hygiene is simple, whether the cleaning is done at home or while travelling.
