Information:

Momcozy MS014 is a set of 5 reusable breast milk storage bags made from safe BPA Free food-grade silicone. They are leak-proof, durable and resistant to both low and high temperatures, making them suitable for the freezer, as well as for thawing and warming. The flat or upright shape helps save space, and the clear scale makes it easy to measure portions accurately up to 250 ml. The bags can be sterilised, washed in the dishwasher and used repeatedly, making them an eco-friendly and economical alternative to disposable packaging. In addition to milk, they are also suitable for storing juices, mousses and purées.

Full product description

Momcozy MS014 - An innovative way to store breast milk

The Momcozy MS014 set, containing 5 pieces, is a breakthrough solution for mothers who want to safely and ecologically store expressed breast milk. These grey breast milk storage bags are made from high-quality Food grade silicone, making them an excellent alternative to a disposable bag product. Each silicone bag actively supports breastfeeding, enabling hygienic storage of precious milk. Thanks to the exceptional durability of the material, these storage bags can last for years, making them a far more economical choice than traditional plastic storage bags.

Breast milk protected - a safe and leak-proof bag

Baby safety is a priority, which is why Momcozy milk bags are completely BPA free and free from other harmful substances. The sturdy container features a leak-proof Knob Cap Design, which guarantees 100% protection against leakage. This is crucial when you need to safely store milk in a bag. Unlike products from Medela or Lansinoh, this reusable bag has a one-piece moulded form, which eliminates the risk of cracks. You can pour milk directly into it from your breast pump, enjoying complete hygiene during feeding.

Storing breast milk - freezer and flat shape

Managing a home milk bank has never been so easy. Food storage bags are resistant to extreme temperatures, making the home freezer the ideal place for long-term breast milk storage. The silicone bag can be laid flat to achieve a flat profile, or stood upright, allowing you to make the best use of available space. Each bag has a clear scale, making it easy to measure portions precisely, such as 180 ml or a full 250 ml

(8.5 oz). The freezing process does not negatively affect the silicone structure, and once removed from the cold, the milk can be prepared for use in no time.

Thawed milk and feeding - warmer and sterilisation

Preparing a meal is extremely easy and intuitive. Once the milk has thawed, the milk inside only needs to be warmed in warm water or the container placed in a suitable warmer. The durable silicone bag conducts heat very well, significantly reducing the waiting time for a meal. After feeding, the milk bags only need washing – both steam sterilisation and scalding in boiling water are permitted. This solution is much more hygienic than a disposable plastic bag, as the material is resistant to repeated disinfection.

Multifunctional food storage bags

The Momcozy product is much more than just standard milk containers. When your breastfeeding journey comes to an end, this silicone bag will still remain extremely useful. You can store juices, homemade purées or fruit mousses in it, and even use it as a breastmilk ice pack. The flexible bag takes up minimal space, and its sturdy seal ensures that transporting food is always safe. By choosing these milk storage bags, you are investing in a multifunctional product that makes food storage easier at every stage of your child's development.
