Information:

Momcozy YN46 is a seamless nursing bra with a push-up effect, designed with comfort and stable bust support in mind during pregnancy and breastfeeding. The jelly strip technology replaces traditional underwires, providing support without pressure or irritation. The soft, lightweight and elastic material adapts to a changing figure, while the smooth construction remains invisible under clothing. The adjustable fastenings and straps can be operated with one hand, making feeding easier. The model helps lift the bust, reduces breast sagging and offers safe, comfortable everyday wear.

Full product description

Construction based on Jelly Strip technology

The construction of this model uses a jelly strip - seamless floral support system, which serves the role of traditional underwiring. This innovative bonding technology uses jelly gel to stabilise the cup structure without the need for hard underwires or metal wires. Instead of traditional stitching, which can cause irritation, a method has been used that seamlessly bonds the fabrics. Thanks to this solution, the seamless floral bra remains smooth and practically invisible under fitted clothing, while retaining its technical supportive properties.

Comfort and fit - the most important feature of the product

The material used is light and delicate, allowing the fabric and the body to move together in any situation. The bra is highly elastic and can stretch, responding to natural changes in breast volume throughout the day. The texture of the material is very soft and exceptionally comfortable, making the lingerie feel like a natural extension of the skin. As the model is wire-free and seamless, it eliminates pressure points, which is especially important when the breasts are more sensitive.

Functionality during feeding and everyday activities

The manufacturer decided to design this model in such a way that it effectively helps lift the bust and prevent breast sagging. The adjustable fastenings and straps are easy to operate with one hand, making it easier to bring the baby to the breast. In situations where there is concern about moisture with slight leakage, it is worth noting that the material in the lower part is slightly thicker to help prevent leakage to the outside. The construction means that the bra supports weight well, and the cups provide firmer support and sit closer to the body than in standard underwired models.
