Information:

Mould King 18024A is an impressive 1:8 scale construction set inspired by Formula 1 racing cars, consisting of 1065 pieces. Once assembled, the model measures 59 cm in length and features an aerodynamic silhouette along with intricately detailed components. Equipped with full suspension, a functioning steering wheel, air intakes, and an advanced aerodynamic package, the model offers a realistic experience. With the included remote control, two drive motors, and a servo motor, remote operation is possible once construction is complete. Made from durable ABS plastic, the set ensures stability and is compatible with bricks from other manufacturers, allowing for further expansion. Designed for individuals aged 14 and over, the set includes a clear instruction manual to facilitate assembly.

Full product description

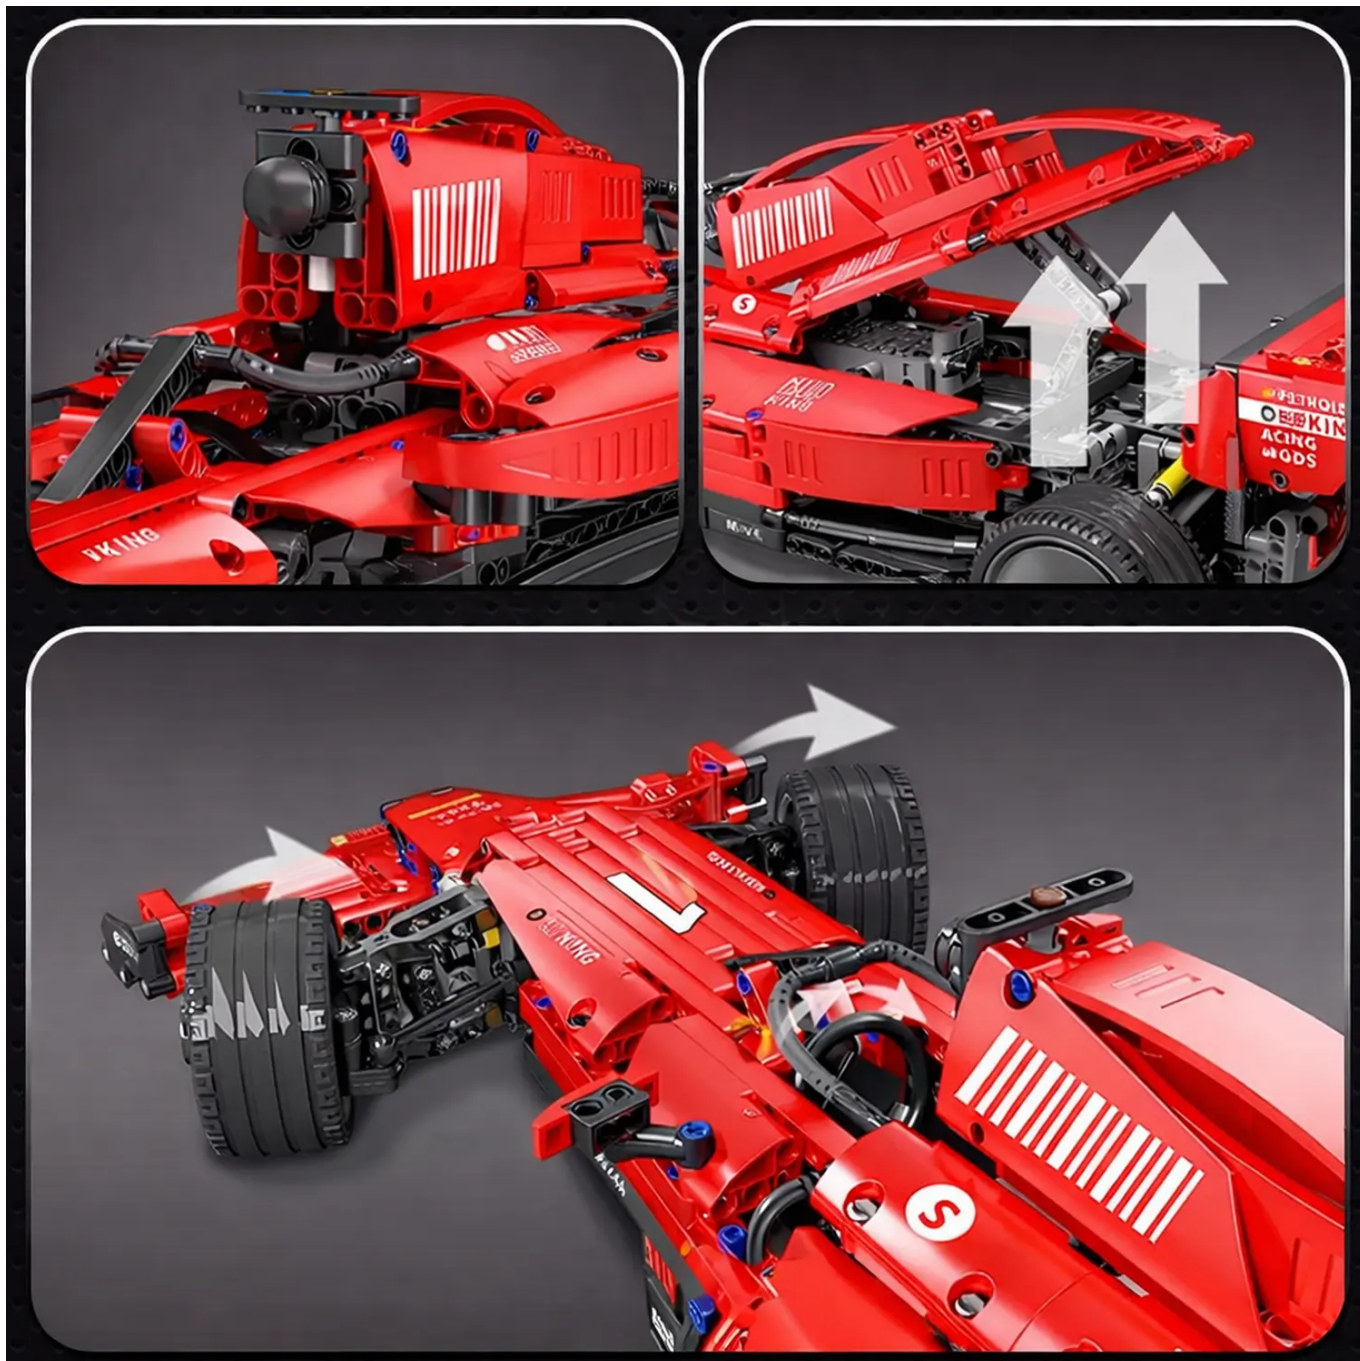

Impressive 1:8 Scale F1 Car

Mould King 18024A is a construction set inspired by Formula 1 racing cars. The model features an aerodynamic silhouette, smooth lines, and carefully replicated details, making it very striking once assembled. The set consists of 1065 pieces and allows you to build a car that is 59 cm long, which attracts attention with its shape and size.

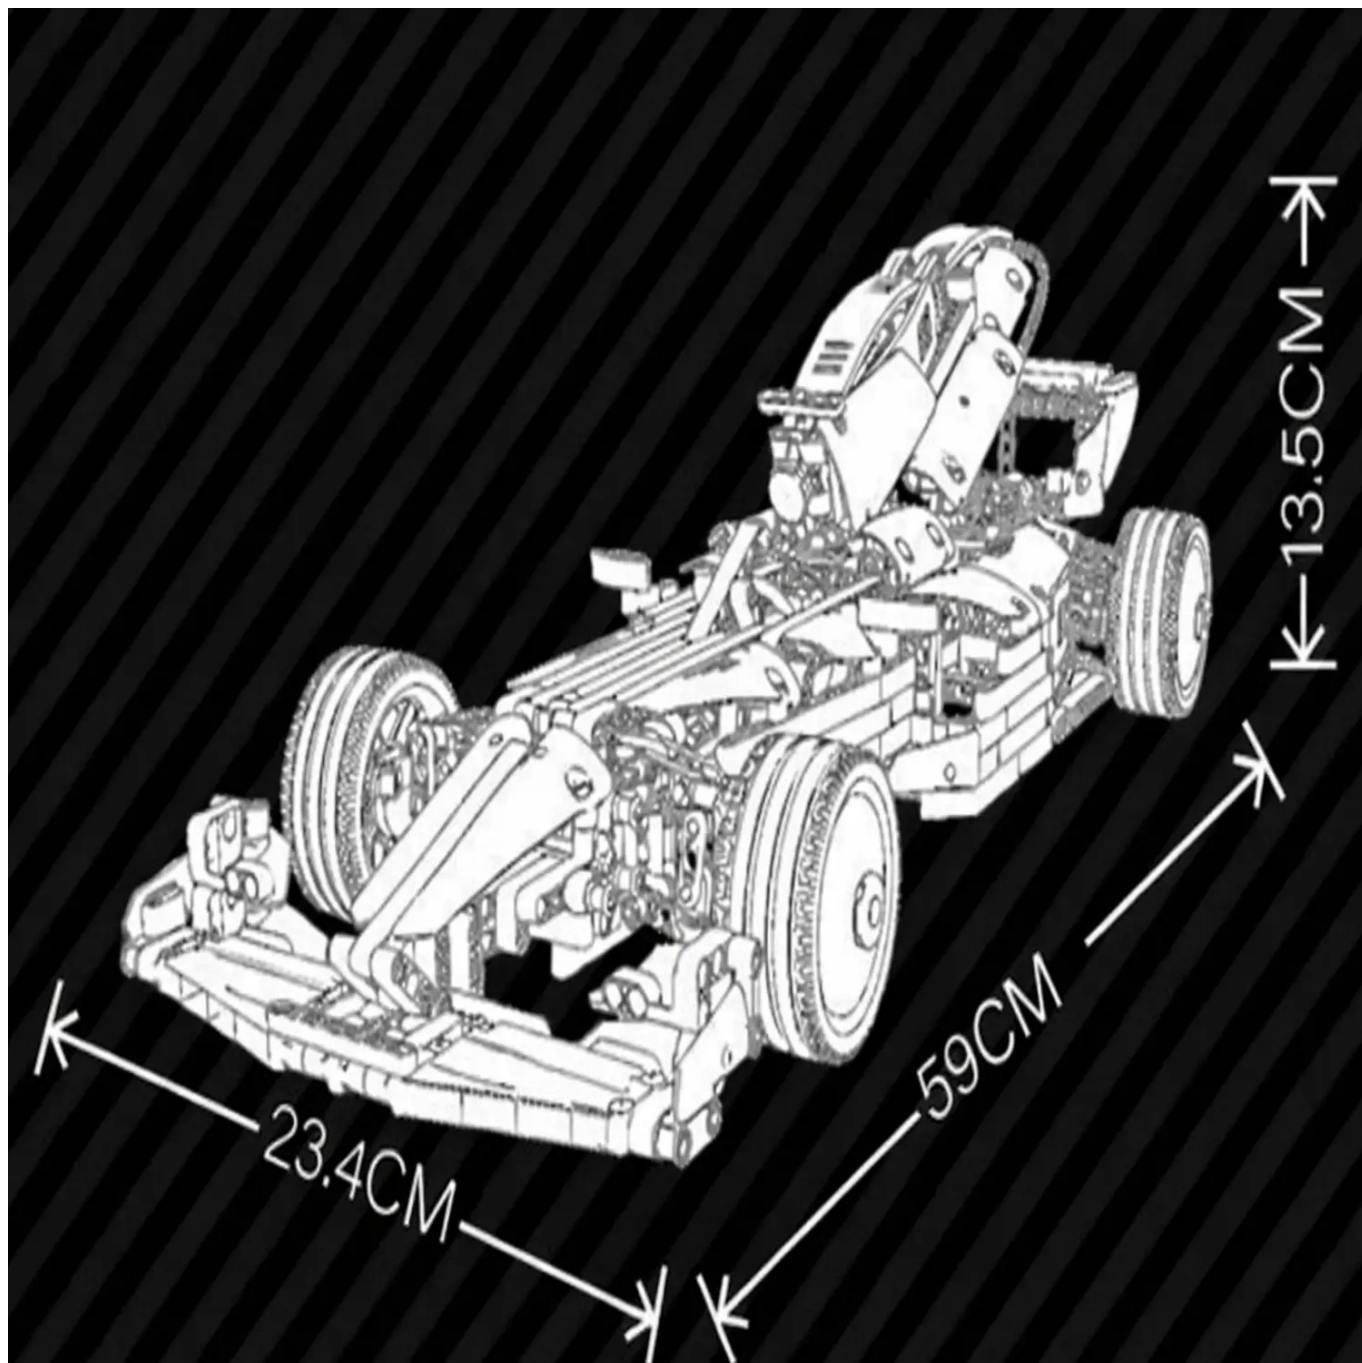

Features that Highlight the Character of the Model

The model is equipped with full suspension, a detailed cockpit, a functioning steering wheel, air intakes, and an extensive aerodynamic package. The construction also includes a refined drivetrain, giving the whole a more technical character. The set includes a remote control, two drive motors, and a servo motor, allowing for remote control and providing more options after construction is complete.

Robust Construction and Satisfaction from Building

Mould King bricks are made from durable ABS plastic, contributing to easy assembly and stability of the finished structure. The set is compatible with bricks from other manufacturers, allowing for expansion with additional elements. The model is intended for individuals aged 14 and over, and the clear instructions help guide you through the entire building process step by step.
