Information:

Mould King 13108S is an impressive 1:8 scale sports car model, consisting of 3201 pieces and designed for advanced builders. It offers realistic features such as a moving V8 engine with working pistons, a functioning gearbox, differential and steering system, as well as an opening bonnet, doors and boot. The aggressive design with an aerodynamic package, wide wheel arches and carbon fibre-effect details emphasises the model's racing character. It is a demanding, striking build that combines the satisfaction of construction with a high level of realism and works perfectly as a display piece in any collection.

Full product description

Race machine in 1:8 scale

The Mould King 13108S set is a construction challenge that allows you to recreate a legendary sports car with 1400 HP. The model features an impressive 3,201 pieces, which translates into many hours of engaging building. Thanks to the 1:8 scale, the vehicle becomes the centrepiece of any collection of technical vehicle models.

Key features of the Mould King 13108S

- 3,201 pieces for advanced builders.
- 1:8 scale with dimensions of 55 x 15 x 26 cm.
- Moving V8 engine with working pistons.
- Full mechanical system with gearbox and differential.
- Opening parts: bonnet, doors and boot.
- Use of carbon fibre in selected parts.

Advanced engineering

The model offers a deep insight into the mechanics of high-performance vehicles. The use of a functional gearbox and steering system means that each stage of assembly teaches the principles behind how real components work. The twin-turbo system and the detailed engine bay are a treat for those who value realism and technical detail that goes beyond standard building bricks.

Design and customisation

The aggressive silhouette with widened wheel arches and a full aerodynamic package captures the character of a drift beast. The included sticker set and multi-coloured rims make it easy to give the model an individual style. The use of high-density ABS material helps maintain the durability of the structure, while the precise fit of the pieces makes it easier to assemble complex sections.
