Information:

STAY BEAUTY CW1 is a cordless neck and nape massager that provides comfortable relaxation at home, while working or resting. The contoured design rests on the shoulders, allowing the device to operate hands-free. 8 massage heads, several operating modes and 3 intensity levels let you tailor the massage to your individual needs. In addition, the heat and cool function with 3 temperature settings increases user comfort. The clear panel, display and voice prompts make it easy to use, while the rechargeable power supply and 10 W output ensure convenient, portable use without a cable.

Full product description

Relax for the neck and nape

STAY BEAUTY CW1 is a cordless massager designed for caring for the neck and nape area. The shoulder-mounted design allows you to use the device without having to hold it in your hands. Battery power makes the massager easy to use at home, while resting or between everyday tasks.

8 massage heads

The device uses 8 massage heads arranged on the inner side of the design. Their simultaneous operation allows it to target different areas of the neck during one session. The massager offers several operating modes and 3 intensity levels, allowing you to adjust the device's action to your own preferences.

Clear controls

The control panel and display make it easy to manage the settings during use. The massager is also equipped with voice prompts, which help with operating selected functions. The device has a power output of 10 W, and the battery-powered design reduces the need to use a cable during massage.

Heat and cool function

STAY BEAUTY CW1 combines massage with the option of using heating or cooling. There are 3 temperature adjustment levels available, so the way the device works can be tailored to a moment of rest and the user's individual preferences.

Comfort while resting

The contoured design wraps around the neck and rests on the shoulders, leaving your hands free. This makes it easy to combine a massage session with relaxing on the sofa, watching a film or other calm activities at home.

Massage also while working

The cordless design means the massager can also be used while working at a desk. The device stays supported on the neck and shoulders, allowing the user to enjoy the selected massage programme without using their hands. It is a practical solution for people who spend a lot of time sitting down.
