Full product description

Unrivalled softness and adorable design after every bath

The evening bath routine for a baby is not only a time for hygiene, but above all a moment of bonding, calming down and relaxing before sleep. The 8-piece Momcozy Cute Elephant Hooded Baby Towel bath set has been designed with comprehensive protection and comfort for little ones in mind. The set includes two large, highly absorbent hooded towels with a charming elephant motif and six soft washcloths. The cute hoods not only make little ones look like tiny elephants, but above all effectively protect the baby's sensitive head from draughts and chilling immediately after being lifted out of the warm water.

Optimal thermal protection and gentleness for the skin

The skin of newborns and babies is much thinner and more prone to irritation than adult skin, so it requires exceptionally gentle care. The Momcozy towels and washcloths are made from technically selected, fluffy premium fabric that quickly absorbs water without the need to rub the body hard. The grey elephant-shaped hooded towel wraps the little one like a soft cloud, guaranteeing an immediate feeling of warmth and dryness, which prevents shivering after leaving the bath.

Joyful moments and loving care

The Momcozy bath set is an excellent tool for building positive associations with everyday hygiene. The high quality of the materials means that the towels retain their fluffiness and softness even after many wash cycles, without becoming rough. By showing your child the cute hood with elephant ears, you turn routine drying into a smile-filled game. The small washcloths included in the set are perfect for gently cleansing skin folds, the face and for care during nappy changes, becoming an inseparable part of the day.

Idealny prezent na baby shower

Maximum comfort from toes to the top of the head

The thoughtfully large dimensions of the towels mean that the product grows with the child without any problem – from the first days of a newborn's life, through infancy, right up to preschool age. The material precisely covers every part of the body, allowing the baby's sensitive feet lying on the bedding to be wrapped thoroughly and gently. The hypoallergenic and breathable fibre structure protects against nappy rash, supports the skin's natural barrier and provides a blissful feeling of relaxation after the evening splash.

Complete baby starter set - an ideal gift idea

Putting together a newborn starter set requires choosing textiles that are safe and extremely practical. The 8-piece set from Momcozy eliminates the need to buy separate cloths, providing parents with a complete bath set in a cohesive, elegant form. Thanks to the universal grey colour scheme, the set is perfect for both boys and girls. The attractive finish and cute elephant motif make it a perfect ready-made gift for a baby's birth or a baby shower.
