Information:

The Momcozy wireless electric breast pump is a lightweight, discreet Hands-Free device for expressing milk directly in the bra, without wires or tubes. It weighs only 230 g, provides freedom of movement at work, at home and while travelling, and the included case makes storage and transport easier. The Momcozy app allows you to remotely change modes and suction levels, switch between single or double pumping, and monitor the amount of milk. The patented DoubleFit™ funnel and ergonomic shape support a stable, comfortable fit. The device offers 3 operating modes and 9 intensity levels, and 4 funnel sizes help achieve the perfect fit. BPA-free silicone parts are easy to clean.

Full product description

Momcozy Wireless Electric Breast Pump

The Momcozy wireless electric breast pump is a functional device designed for hands-free milk expression. The device allows milk to be collected directly inside the bra, enabling women to maintain freedom of movement while working, travelling or carrying out everyday household tasks. The design eliminates the need for external cables and tubes, offering practical support during lactation and making it easier to organise time at home.

Remote control via the Momcozy mobile app

The device is equipped with a wireless connectivity module that allows full integration with the dedicated Momcozy smartphone app. The software enables discreet adjustment of operating modes and suction levels without the need to reach under clothing or manually adjust the buttons on the housing. In addition, the mobile app allows switching between single and double pumping, and also acts as a digital assistant, recording the amount of milk collected and visualising lactation trends.

DoubleFit™ design and ergonomic shape

The breast-friendly design features a horizontal pumping angle and the patented DoubleFit™ funnel. The ergonomic profile has been carefully adapted to the anatomy of the body, ensuring a stable and secure fit during pump operation. The solutions used reduce the risk of accessories slipping and skin irritation, which increases comfort and milk expression efficiency.

Adjustment of suction parameters and flexible operating modes

The breast pump offers a wide range of customisation options thanks to 3 different operating modes (stimulation, expression and mixed mode). Each of the available programmes works with 9 adjustable vacuum intensity levels. This allows the suction strength to be precisely matched to the current nipple sensitivity and the body's physiological needs, supporting efficient and trouble-free milk removal.

Light weight and spacious travel case

The device stands out for its exceptionally light structure - the weight of a single module is just 230 g, so it does not burden the bra and remains discreet in use. A spacious, elegant travel case is supplied with the equipment. The cover allows all components to be stored neatly, making it easier to pack efficiently and transport the breast pump safely outside the home without the risk of losing accessories.
