Full product description

Unrivalled softness and versatility at every stage of motherhood

The Momcozy Smooth Ultra Soft Omni Maternity Nursing Bra is synonymous with uncompromising comfort, designed with pregnant women and breastfeeding mums in mind. Its exceptionally soft, flexible fabric structure adapts perfectly to a changing body, without causing painful pressure or irritating sensitive skin. This multifunctional model works perfectly not only as a classic maternity or nursing bra, but also as an extremely comfortable sleep bra, a home sleep bra top, as well as support during light sports activities and everyday tasks.

Innovative nursing extenders and stabilisation for wireless breast pumps

Momcozy designers have equipped this bestselling model with special extended breastfeeding clasps. This unique design innovation means the bra easily transforms into a professional wearable breast pump bra. The stable, thoughtfully designed cup structure can perfectly support and secure any wireless breast pump, eliminating the risk of it shifting and guaranteeing mum complete freedom of movement and hands-free convenience during a pumping session.

Seamless technology in the service of everyday comfort

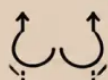

Traditional underwires and thick seams can be a major source of discomfort at a time when a woman's breasts naturally become fuller and more tender. The use of advanced seamless technology eliminates the problem of painful edges digging into the body, offering a "second-skin" feel. The bra remains completely invisible under clothing, gently enveloping the bust and guaranteeing a pleasant feeling of freshness and lightness around the clock – both during the day and while resting at night.

Natural shaping and effective bust support

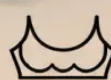

Despite the lack of rigid metal elements, the specially designed support zone guarantees optimal lift and preserves the bust's natural, attractive shape. The wide underbust band and elastic straps distribute weight evenly, preventing strain on the shoulders and thoracic spine. The cup construction responds to anatomical changes in breast size throughout the day, which is extremely important during the period when lactation is stabilising.

The intuitive nursing clasps can be operated easily with one hand, allowing you to feed a hungry little one quickly and without stress in any situation. It is a reliable wardrobe essential that combines medical attention to ergonomics with a modern, elegant look.
