Information:

MOULD KING 10237 Vader's Lightsaber Building Set is an impressive construction set with 1627 pieces that, once assembled, creates a striking 97,3 cm red lightsaber model. The black-and-silver detailed hilt and long blade give the whole piece a cinematic, collector's feel. The set includes a display stand, allowing the model to sit securely on a shelf, desk or in a display cabinet. It is an engaging project for fans of bricks, science fiction and decorations with a bold, eye-catching style.

Full product description

Impressive lightsaber model for display

MOULD KING 10237 Vader's Lightsaber Building Set is an extensive construction set consisting of 1627 pieces. Once assembled, it creates a distinctive red lightsaber with a black-and-silver hilt, which works perfectly as a decoration for a room, office, gaming area or collector's shelf. The slim shape of the model and the display stand make the whole piece look striking and immediately catch the eye of science fiction fans.

Red blade with a strong character

The model stands out with a long red blade made of bricks, which gives the build a cinematic feel. Its length and colour scheme work well with the dark scenery and the technical look of the hilt. This is a set for people who like builds with a distinctive style, inspired by iconic props from space stories.

Hilt full of details

The black-and-silver hilt has been designed to emphasise the technical character of the whole model. The segmented construction, contrasting elements and button panel give it a collector's look. As a result, the set offers not only the satisfaction of building, but also an attractive finish once the construction is complete.

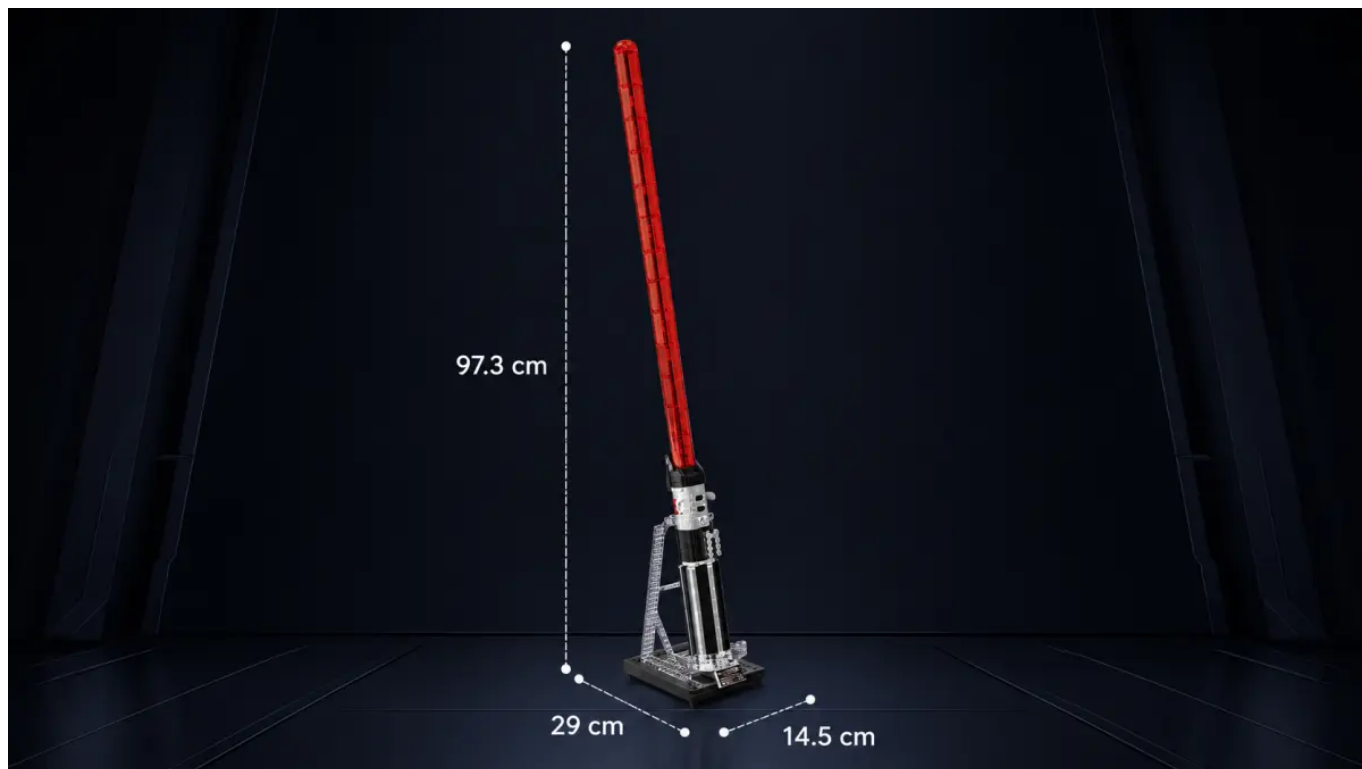

Stand for elegant presentation

The set includes a display stand that allows the lightsaber to be positioned securely and makes it easier to present the finished model. The transparent elements of the stand ensure that the construction itself remains the main focus, while the black base adds a more display-like character to the whole piece. It is a practical solution for collectors who want to showcase the model without needing additional accessories.

Building with a science fiction feel

Assembling the MOULD KING 10237 set is an option for people who enjoy longer, engaging construction projects. The 1627 pieces allow you to gradually recreate both the long blade and the more complex hilt. The building process helps you focus on the details, and the finished result can become the centrepiece of a collection of space-themed models.

Black-and-silver hilt styling

The combination of black, silver and red gives the model a striking, dark appearance. The hilt contrasts well with the blade, making the whole construction look cohesive both up close and from a greater distance. This set will work well as a gift for a brick fan, a collector of props and someone looking for a decoration with a strong film-inspired theme.

Model in display scale

Once assembled, the lightsaber reaches a length of 97.3 cm, so it presents well as a larger display model. The slim construction does not take up much width, while still offering an impressive height that looks great on a shelf, chest of drawers or in a display cabinet. It is an option for people who value models with a strong visual presence.

A gift idea for a brick fan

MOULD KING 10237 Vader's Lightsaber Building Set combines a collector's look with the pleasure of building it yourself. The set includes instructions that allow you to build the lightsaber step by step and prepare it for display on the stand. The finished model suits gaming, film and futuristic interiors.
