Information:

MOULD KING 16054 Medieval World Log Cabin Building Set is an extensive 2192-piece set that allows you to build an atmospheric medieval cottage with an orange roof, a cobbled street, a horse and a cart. The model stands out with its warm colour scheme, wooden façade and numerous details, creating a complete scene inspired by an old settlement. The modular construction allows you to view the interior and display the details, while LED lighting adds an atmospheric character to the whole model after dark. It is an impressive collector's model, ideal for display, dioramas and fans of medieval architecture.

Full product description

Medieval Cottage

MOULD KING 16054 MEDIEVAL WORLD LOG CABIN BUILDING SET is an extensive construction set that brings the atmosphere of an old settlement into the world of bricks. The model depicts a medieval house with an orange roof, a cobbled street, a horse and a cart, so the finished build creates a complete scene rather than just a single building. The warm colour scheme, wooden character of the façade and numerous accessories make the set a good fit for architecture collections, dioramas and models inspired by old towns.

2,192 building elements

The set consists of 2,192 bricks, allowing you to create a detailed building with a complex structure, interior and surroundings. The build includes not only the walls and roof of the cottage, but also floors, greenery, a horse-drawn cart and decorative elements around the house. The modular construction makes the model easier to view once assembled, as individual parts of the building can be separated to look inside and better display the interior details.

A model with a settlement atmosphere

The medieval brick house stands out through a combination of architecture, accessories and LED lighting, which emphasises the display character of the set. The battery box and lighting elements help bring out the building's warm ambience after dark, especially when the model is placed on a shelf or in a display cabinet. The horse-drawn cart, tree, fence and plant accents help create a story around the cottage, so the set works well as a standalone decoration or as part of a larger medieval-style diorama.
