Full product description

MOULD KING 24002 - a rhododendron you can build yourself

MOULD KING 24002 Rhododendron Flower Building Set is a set consisting of 132 pieces from which you can build a decorative rhododendron model. Pink petals, a green stem and leaves create a cohesive composition inspired by a flowering garden plant. As you assemble the individual parts, you can watch a three-dimensional ornament gradually take shape from small bricks, reaching a height of over 22 cm. The finished flower can be displayed on its own or combined with other plant models to create a larger bouquet.

A composition with pink flowers and a green stem

The model stands out thanks to several shades of pink used to recreate the petals, contrasted with the green elements of the stem and leaves. The varied arrangement of the parts makes the flower look three-dimensional rather than flat, creating a decorative piece visible from different angles. The gently sloping stem gives the composition a more natural character and resembles a plant growing towards the light. As a result, the model looks good both from the front and when viewed at an angle.

Creative assembly and a satisfying result

The set containing 132 bricks offers an accessible construction project that does not require building a large model taking up much space. Assembling the petals, leaves and individual sections of the stem encourages calm work and careful completion of each stage. Once assembled, it becomes a decoration that can be used straight away as part of a room arrangement. It is an option for people who like bricks, floral motifs and projects that combine building with creating ornaments.

Carefully recreated petals and plant details

The most distinctive feature of the model is the elaborate pink flowers made up of many layers of bricks. The individual petals have been arranged at different angles, helping to create the impression of a fully opened bloom. Light and darker colour accents emphasise its three-dimensional form, while the green parts of the structure provide a clear backdrop for the pink elements. The model can therefore serve as a small decoration placed on a shelf, desk or chest of drawers.

Decoration for the home, office or bedroom

Once assembled, the rhododendron reaches over 22.4 cm in height, so it remains clearly visible while not taking up much space. It can be placed in a slim vase, used as a single decorative accent or combined with other brick flowers. The model does not require watering or access to light, so it can also decorate places where live plants are difficult to maintain. The pastel colour scheme suits bright interiors, workspaces and rooms decorated with plant-inspired accessories.

Adjustable elements that make arranging the composition easier

The model's green stems and leaves can be positioned as desired, allowing the plant's appearance to be adapted to the way it is displayed. This makes it possible to subtly change the direction of the flowers, the spacing of the leaves and the overall line of the composition. The rhododendron can be more upright or slightly inclined, depending on the height of the vessel and the place where it is displayed. This adjustability also makes it easier to combine the model with other flowers in a bouquet you create yourself.

A gift idea for a flower and brick enthusiast

MOULD KING 24002 can be an interesting gift for someone who enjoys building models, decorating interiors or collecting floral constructions. The recipient gets not only a finished ornament, but above all the opportunity to create it themselves from many small parts. Once built, the model can remain a keepsake and a decorative item used all year round. The rhododendron will also work well as part of a larger collection of flowers made of bricks.
