Full product description

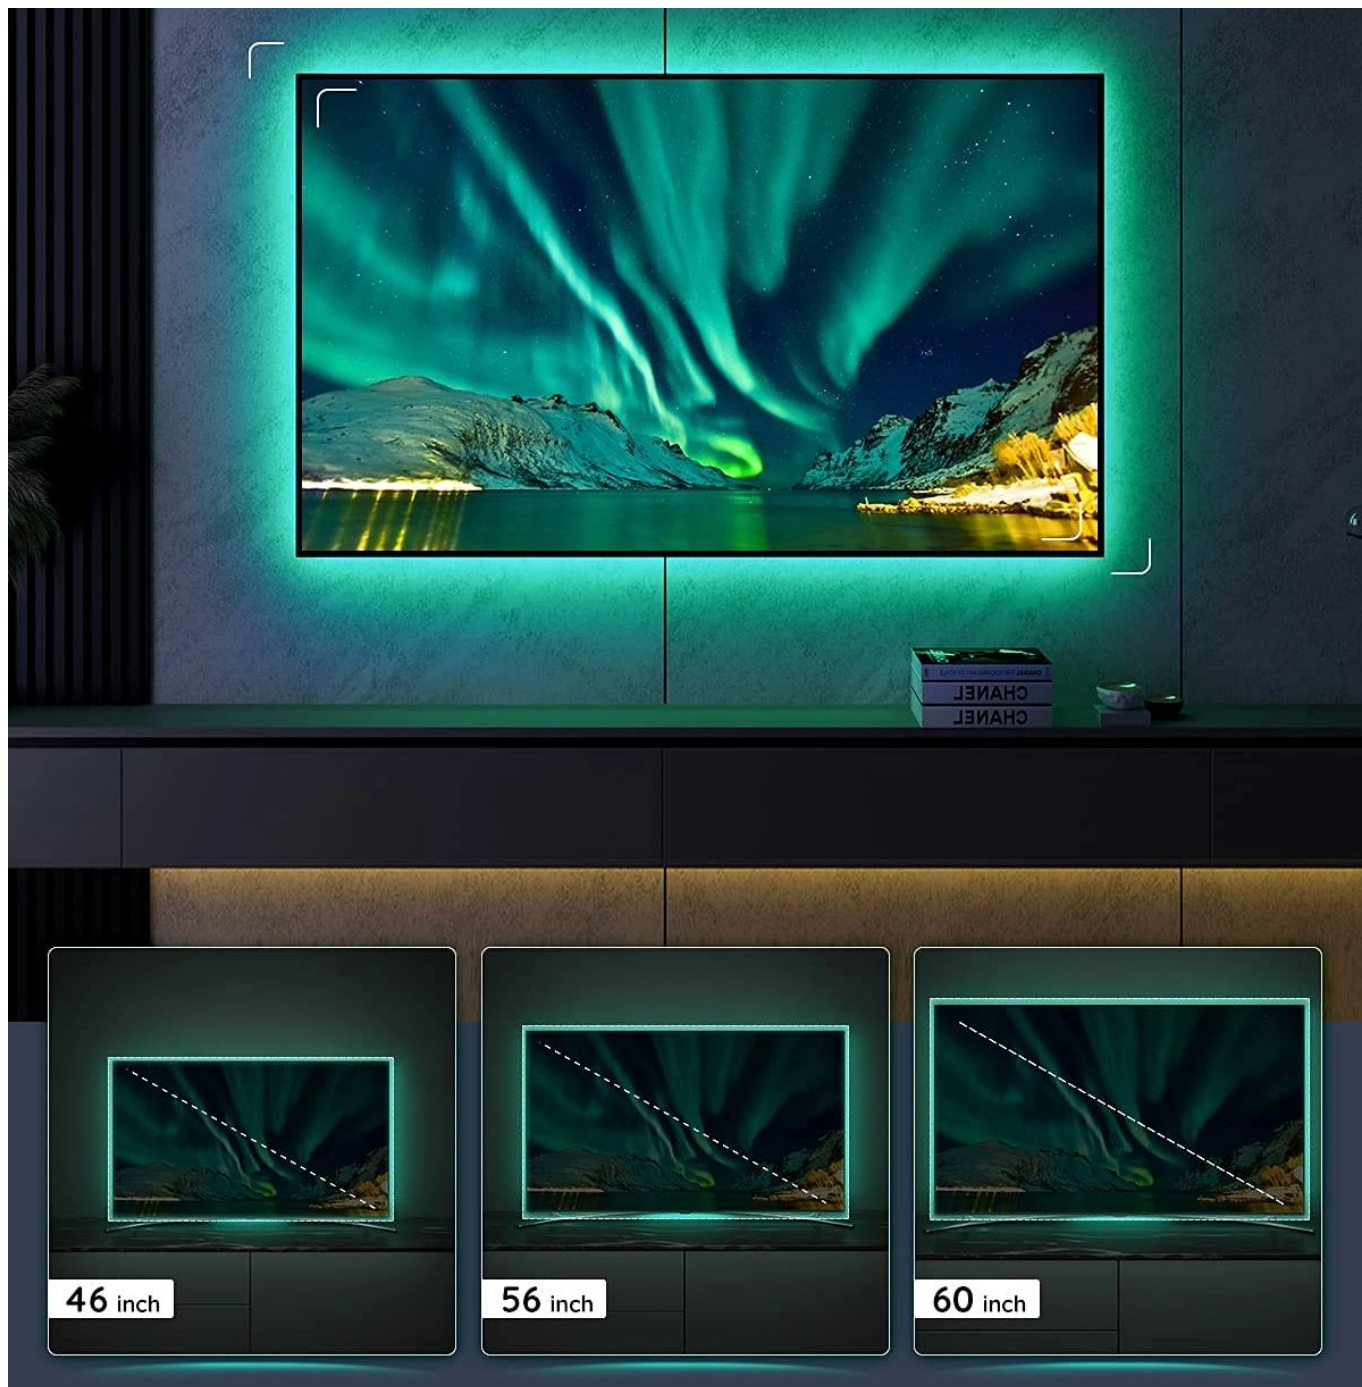

Govee H6178 - RGB LED TV Backlight.

Govee H6178 is an RGB LED ribbon designed specifically for 46-60 inch screens. With the ability to be controlled by the Govee Home app, the strip allows you to adjust colors, brightness and synchronize with sound.

Easy control through the Govee Home app

Lighting management becomes convenient with the Govee Home app, available on Google Play and the App Store. You can choose from 16 million colors, adjust brightness and light effects in real time. With Bluetooth and voice control, the backlighting can be quickly changed without a remote control.

Synchronization with sound - dynamic effects

A built-in microphone in the controller allows the light to synchronize with ambient sounds. Music Mode makes the LED strip pulsate to the rhythm of music for even better visual effects during movie screenings or parties. The Govee H6178 RGB LED TV backlighting allows you to create a unique atmosphere in any situation.

64+ Scene Modes

Easy installation and USB power supply

Installation is easy - the LED tape has a strong 3M adhesive, so you can easily stick it to the back of the TV. The lighting works on USB power (5VDC 2A), which means that it automatically starts up along with turning on the screen. No need to plug into an outlet makes installation quick and convenient.

64 scene modes and DIY mode

The Govee H6178 offers more than 64 preset scenes that allow you to quickly adjust the lighting to suit your mood. You can also create your own effects in DIY mode. The Govee H6178 LED TV's backlighting gives you full control over light color and visual effects.
