Full product description

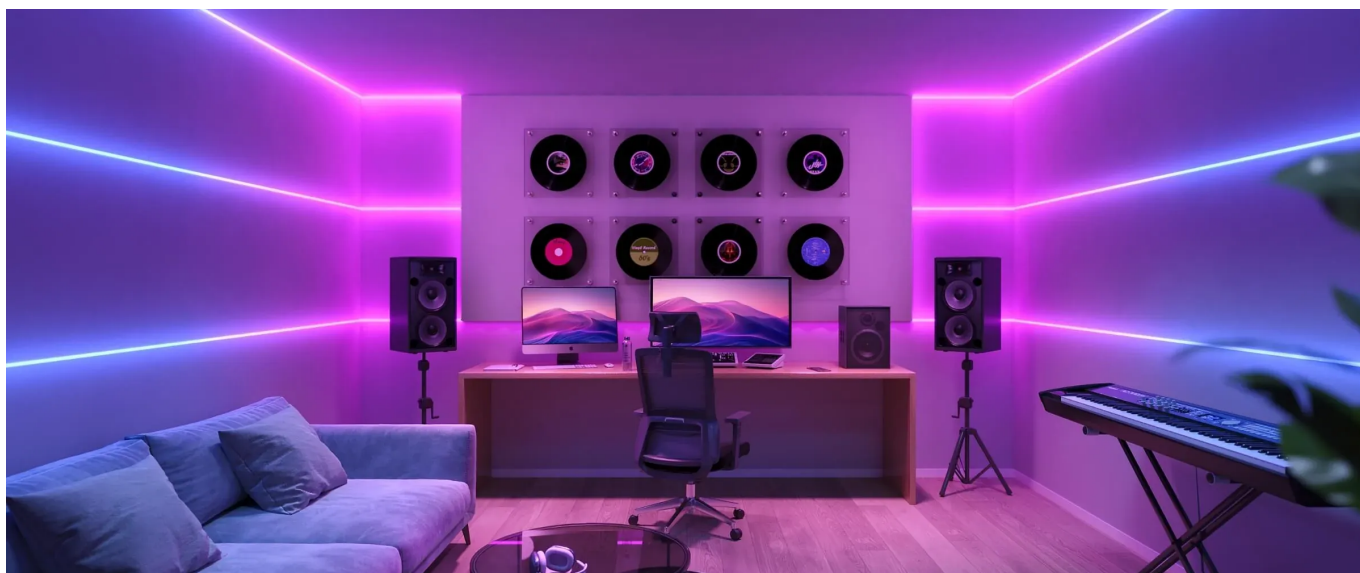

Light up your interiors with the Govee H61E5 COB Strip Light Pro

With the help of RGBIC W (White) technology and densely spaced LEDs, this LED strip creates intense, smooth color transitions that will fit perfectly into any setting. Not only does this product provide excellent illumination, but it also offers full personalization by working with mobile apps and voice control.

Intense and smooth color transitions

Thanks to RGBIC W technology, the strip offers perfect transitions between colors that will make every corner of your room illuminated in the way you choose. The smooth transitions between colors create unique lighting effects that set this product apart from others on the market. Choose your favorite colors and easily control the light with the Govee Home app.

High density of LEDs

The Govee H61E5 strip is equipped with 1260 LEDs per meter, making the light extremely intense and evenly dispersed. It's ideal both for highlighting architectural elements and as a main light in modern interiors. Regardless of where you choose to mount this strip, you can be sure to get perfectly even illumination without dark spots.

Voice control and app

Easily adjust your lighting with voice assistants such as Alexa or Google Assistant, or control it from the Govee Home app. Connectivity via Wi-Fi and Bluetooth ensures quick response to your commands, and the app allows you to program lighting scenes that adapt to your preferences. It's technology that will make your life more comfortable and automated.

Easy installation and versatility

Govee H61E5 COB Strip Light Pro is an ideal solution for any interior. You can install it in the office, living room, bedroom and even in the kitchen. Installation is quick and easy, and the strip can be adjusted to any length, making it a versatile product. Moreover, thanks to its waterproof design, it is also suitable for outdoor use.
