Information:

The comfortable full-body massage chair combines mechanical massage, pressure from 16 air bags, heating and position adjustment for complete relaxation after an intense day. SL Track technology massages from the neck through the back and waist to the buttocks, while the shoulder position sensor adapts the action to the user's build. The Zero Gravity position helps relieve the spine and distribute body weight evenly, and the Thai Stretch programme supports stretching and relaxation. Additional heating for the back and legs, foot massage and capsule armrests increase comfort. The chair also offers a holder for a phone or iPad, USB and wireless charging, control via screen, joystick and AI voice, 16 automatic programmes, 8 manual modes and Bluetooth with HIFI sound.

Full product description

Comfortable full-body massage

The chair creates an extensive relaxation zone, combining mechanical massage, airbag pressure, heating and body position adjustment. The enclosed design, head, arm and leg support, and foot massager help you relax comfortably after an intense day.

Devices always within reach

The adjustable holder makes it easy to use your phone or iPad during the massage. The USB port and wireless charging module help top up your device without interrupting your rest, while the well-placed controls make them easy to operate from a seated position.

Massage from the neck to the buttocks

SL Track technology guides the massage mechanism from the neck area, through the back and waist, all the way to the buttocks. Up-and-down movement, kneading and spot massage cover successive parts of the body, while the shoulder position sensor helps adjust the mechanism's range of operation to the user's build.

Heat and Thai Stretch programme

Heating for the back and legs complements the massage with pleasant warmth that promotes relaxation during the session. The Thai Stretch programme uses sequences of pressure, support and stretching inspired by Thai massage. The capsule armrests follow the user's position, helping maintain a natural arm posture.

Zero Gravity position

The Zero Gravity design allows the backrest to recline and positions the body in a posture that supports recovery. Smooth angle adjustment lets you tailor the chair's position for massage or relaxation, while the raised legs help distribute body weight evenly.

16 airbags

The 16-airbag system covers the arms, hands, calves and feet. Adjustable pressure intensity lets you tailor the massage to your own preferences, while the airbags in the lower part of the chair help relax tired legs and feet.
