Information:

Bloomlight Baked Illuminating Powder is a baked illuminating powder that gives the skin a soft, elegant glow and a fresh, harmonious make-up finish. The finely milled formula subtly reflects light, enhancing the natural look of the complexion without a heavy feel. Two interwoven shades can be blended or built up to match the intensity and tone of the glow to your skin tone and make-up. The powder spreads easily, builds up in layers and works perfectly on the cheekbones, temples and other areas of the face you want to highlight with light.

Full product description

Bloomlight Baked Powder

Bloomlight Baked Illuminating Powder is a baked illuminating powder that gives the skin a soft, elegant glow. The luminous finish enhances the complexion and makes makeup look fresh and harmonious.

Soft glow

The finely milled formula subtly reflects light, enhancing the skin's natural appearance. The powder leaves a delicate radiance without a heavy-layer effect and helps achieve a luminous makeup finish.

Two shades

The two intermingling shades can be used together or blended in varying proportions during application. This makes it possible to adjust the intensity and tone of the glow to suit the complexion and chosen makeup look.

Glow without heaviness

The baked formula spreads smoothly on the skin and blends easily with other cosmetics. The intensity of the effect can be built up in layers - from a subtle glow to a more visible, luminous finish.

Enhancing the face

The powder can be applied to the cheekbones, temples and other areas of the face that are meant to be highlighted with light. Gentle application helps enliven the complexion and emphasise its natural features.

Bloomlight collection

Bloomlight - when the skin blossoms with light. Fresh blush and a soft glow create makeup full of lightness. Apricot and rose tones work in harmony with a luminous complexion, highlighting its natural beauty.
