Information:

Kingslim E4 is a compact car camera with dual-channel recording in 4K UHD at the front and 1080P at the rear, providing a detailed record of every journey. The wide 160° and 150° viewing angles allow you to capture more events on the road, while the discreet design does not obstruct the driver's view. Thanks to the Sony sensor and 6-layer lens, the camera also delivers a clear image at night, making it easier to read number plates and road signs. It is a practical solution that increases safety and driving comfort.

Full product description

Kingslim E4 Dash Camera - Record every journey in 4K!

This is a unique device that enhances road safety with 4K UHD recording. Equipped with dual-channel recording, the camera allows simultaneous recording of the front and rear of the vehicle. Its compact design makes it ideal for any car, without obstructing the driver's view.

4K 1080P recording

The Kingslim E4 camera captures images in true 4K resolution on the front camera and in 1080P on the rear camera, providing detailed shots from both sides of the vehicle. With this feature, every detail, from license plates to road signs, will be recorded in the highest possible quality. The recordings are perfect both during the day and at night.

Compact design

Thanks to its minimalist design, the Kingslim E4 camera does not take up much space and does not obstruct the view on the windshield, making it discreet and practical. Despite its small size, the camera offers smooth operation and a clear screen. Ideal for those who value comfort and aesthetics in the car.

Wide viewing angle

The front camera has a 160° viewing angle, and the rear camera has a 150° angle, which ensures full protection and recording of what is happening around your car. With such a wide angle, the camera is perfect for any type of vehicle, recording all important events on the road.

Night vision at the highest level

The Kingslim E4 Dash Camera is equipped with a Sony sensor and a 6-layer optical lens, which guarantees excellent recording quality even in the dark. High light sensitivity ensures bright and clear images of license plates and road signs, even in low-light conditions.
