Full product description

Kingsmith Z1 Fold Walking Device - The ideal solution for home training

Kingsmith Z1 Fold Walking Device is a device that fits perfectly into any space, offering a comfortable, low-noise workout. Thanks to its easy folding and quiet operation, you can now exercise whenever you feel like it, without disturbing the peace of other household members.

Compact and easy to store

Kingsmith Z1 is characterised by 180° folding, which allows the space it takes up to be reduced to just 0.16 m². This means you can easily store it after your workout, e.g. under the bed or in the corner of a room. In addition, built-in transport wheels make it easy to move the treadmill anywhere.

Quiet operation thanks to an advanced motor

Equipped with a brushless low-noise motor, the treadmill provides efficient training without unnecessary sounds – the noise level does not exceed 40 dB. This means you can train at any time of day without disturbing other household members. What is more, the motor offers 120% more power while reducing energy consumption by 25%.

Safe and joint-friendly

The Z1 treadmill has a 4-layer anti-slip and shock-absorbing belt, which not only stabilises but also minimises impact, protecting your joints. This means you can train for longer and more comfortably, without worrying about excessive strain on your body. Excellent cushioning makes every step soft and safe.

Training control and monitoring

Thanks to the LED display, you have full insight into your performance – the treadmill continuously monitors speed, distance, time and calories burned. Remote control allows you to quickly adjust the speed and stop the device immediately if needed. With speeds from 1 to 6 km/h, you can tailor the intensity of your workout to your abilities.
