Full product description

Mercusys MS105G

Looking for the right device for quick and easy network expansion? This five-port switch with Gigabit Ethernet ports will do the job. It is up to 10 times faster than conventional 10/100Mbps interfaces. The MS105G is fully compatible with Smart TVs, computers, printers, IP cameras, game consoles and more. With this wide range of applications, the Mercusys MS105G switch is ideal for households as well as small offices and businesses.

Elegant and compact design

Mercusys MS105G, thanks to its slim square housing with elegant red and black colors, will make the switch look modern. Its size is comparable to a modern smartphone.

Plug and Play installation

With Plug-and-Play support, the device does not require special configuration. All you really need to do is connect it to your TV or computer using an Ethernet cable to expand your wireless network in seconds.

Reliable performance

The MS105G switch with Half/Full Duplex technology and MAC address memory provides up to 10Gbps throughput. In addition, each unit is thoroughly tested before being shipped from the manufacturer to the consumer, ensuring trouble-free operation.

Key features:

- Auto-MDI/MDIX auto-negotiation support
- Data rate in 10/100/1000Mbps.
- Jumbo Frame 9 KB
