Full product description

Mercusys MW302R

Mercusys MW302R is a router from a renowned manufacturer. The experience gained over the years of existence on the market has been translated into the production of devices meeting the highest technological standards.

Excellent quality

The router guarantees a stable wireless Wi-Fi connection with a speed of up to 300 Mbps for every device it is paired with. Two 5 dBi external antennas increase signal power and performance without transmission interference or delays. The signal amplifier mode increases the range, the access point mode is responsible for strengthening the wired network, and the WISP mode allows to connect to the ISP where there is no possibility of using a wired connection.

Enjoy it as you wish!

The Mercusys MW302R is ideal for home and office routers. It allows for instant file downloads, high-quality internet games and HD streaming. It has the option to protect private resources and prioritize individual devices.
