Full product description

Advanced abdominal support system and pressure reduction

The Momcozy ergonomic carrier with hip seat introduces a new level of comfort thanks to the original 3D abdominal support. The specially designed, widened waist belt is equipped with an innovative EVA massage pad, which effectively absorbs and relieves pressure exerted on the caregiver's abdominal area. This technological solution makes everyday carrying free from localised pain, bringing immediate relief to sensitive areas after childbirth.

Even weight distribution and back relief

The built-in hip seat structure has been precisely contoured to distribute the growing child's weight stably and evenly across the parent's entire body. Shifting the centre of gravity and balancing the load allows the shoulders, neck and lumbar spine to be significantly relieved. As a result, even long, demanding outings and hours of walking do not cause troublesome muscle tension or back fatigue for the caregiver.

Double protection for maximum hip stability

The safety of the design and the child's stable position are absolute priorities during every journey. The waist belt section features an integrated dual-protection system, consisting of a widened, strong hook-and-loop fastener (magic tape) and a sturdy adjustable snap buckle. This two-stage lock ensures reliable fastening around the parent's hips, preventing the material from shifting or loosening under the child's weight.
