Full product description

Pregnancy pillow - comfort from the first days

During pregnancy, the body changes every day, and the need for comfort during sleep and rest increases. The Momcozy PP101 U-shaped Pregnancy Pillow is designed for pregnant women who want a better sleeping position and comfort both at night and during feeding. With its velour pillowcase, soft filling and enveloping shape, the product supports the body in any position, regardless of trimester.

Letter shape - wrapping and stability

The U-shaped pillow allows you to support your back, legs, abdomen and head at the same time - without the need for other pillows. This type of horn adapts well to the shape of your body, no matter how you position yourself. A pregnancy pillow of the croissant type helps you maintain a stable position while sleeping, which has a positive effect on your spine and the quality of your rest.

Soft velour pillowcase - comfort to the touch

The velour pillowcase used is pleasant to the skin, non-irritating and provides comfort even with prolonged use. The pillowcase can be easily removed and washed in the washing machine, which is important for daily contact with the baby and during feeding. The velour does not lose its softness, even after many washings.

Feeding pillow - comfort and support

After giving birth, the pillow serves as a multifunctional pillow for feeding - both breast and bottle. It gives stable support during feeding and helps to safely position the baby, relieving the strain on the mother's shoulders. Such a solution is also useful for night feedings and when relaxing with the baby.

Multifunctionality - from sleeping to feeding

A pregnancy pillow for sleeping is not the only use. It will also work well as a backrest for reading, watching TV, working with a laptop or even as a playpen for a toddler. Its multifunctional nature is a space-saver and a comfort that stays with you long after the birth.
