Full product description

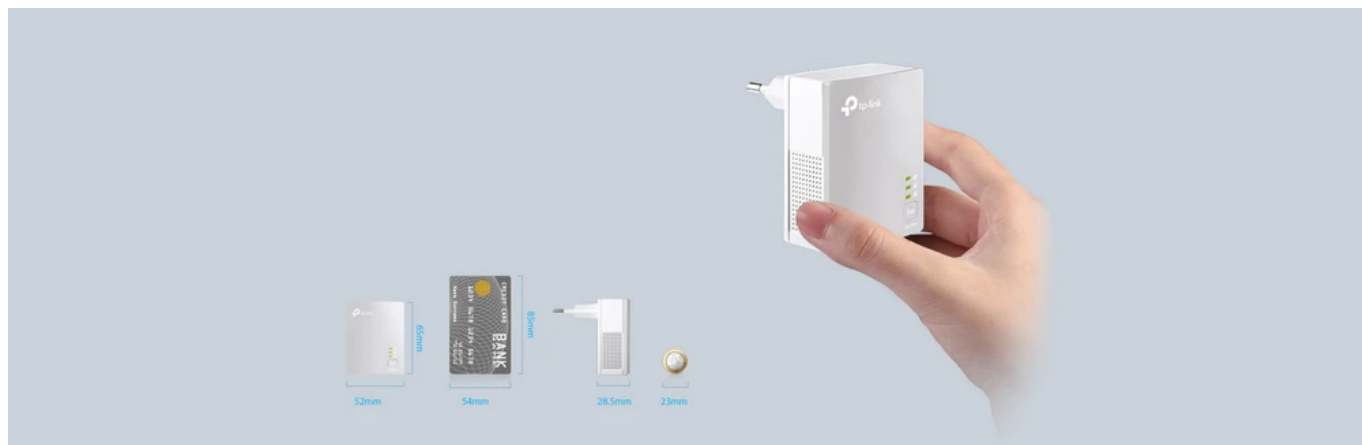

TL-PA4010 Kit - data transmission in your electrical network

Using the HomePlug AV technology, the TL-PA4010KIT set of nano network transmitters guarantees stable and fast data transmission through the electrical network, with speeds reaching 600 Mb/s and distances up to 300 m. Thanks to AES encryption, TL-PA4010 transmitters allow you to connect all network devices, from computers and game consoles to decoders of digital television or NAS network drives.

Pocket sizes

The miniature casing makes the TL-PA4010 transmitters much smaller than their predecessors, their thickness is only 28.5 mm, so they do not take up much space.

Pair button for secure transmission

TP-Link realizes that nowadays security of the network is very important, so in TL-PA4010KIT it can be protected with 128-bit encryption AES. It is enough to press Pair button placed on the housing of the device.
