Full product description

Ubiquiti UACC-CRB is a sleek and rugged tray cable

With its modern design and white color, the cable cover blends in perfectly with a variety of interiors, maintaining an aesthetically pleasing order. The subtle and minimalist design not only hides the cables, but also adds elegance to any room where it is used. It is ideal for offices, homes and public places where aesthetics matter.

Robust construction

A product made of durable materials such as acrylonitrile-butadiene-styrene (ABS) and polycarbonate (PC), the Ubiquiti UACC-CRB Cable Raceway Base provides long-lasting durability and damage resistance. These materials are known for their excellent impact strength and wear resistance, so the cable cover will last for many years without needing replacement.

Aesthetic design

With its sleek white color and simple design, the cable tray blends seamlessly into modern office and home interiors for neat and tidy cable management.

Easy installation

The simple design and intuitive mounting allow for quick and hassle-free installation, allowing for efficient cable management without the need for complicated tools.
