Uwant Aerofusion Hair Dryer

Intelligent temperature control system

Your hair deserves the best protection. With the UWANT H100 hair dryer, equipped with an advanced intelligent temperature control system, you can say goodbye to worrying about damaging your hair from overheating. This system not only performs thousands of scans per second to monitor the temperature in real time, but also has a safety feature that automatically shuts down the device if the airflow is blocked. Hair drying becomes safe and effective.

UWANT

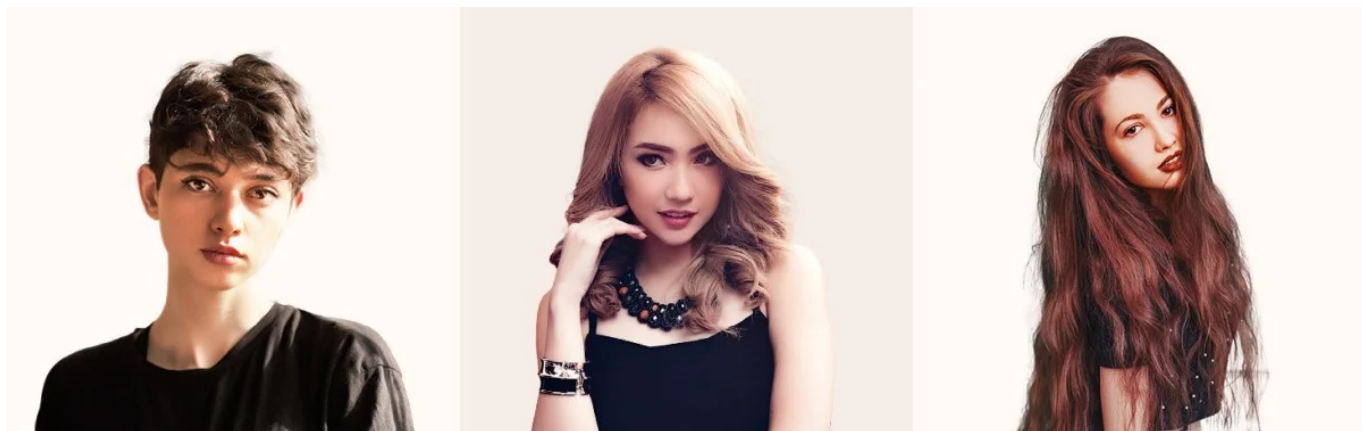

High-speed brushless motor

A patented brushless motor, operating at an impressive 110,000 RPM, is at the heart of the UWANT H100 hair dryer. The powerful and instantaneous airflow ensures that your hair dries quickly without prolonged exposure to heat. Your hair dries faster while retaining its natural moisture and shine.

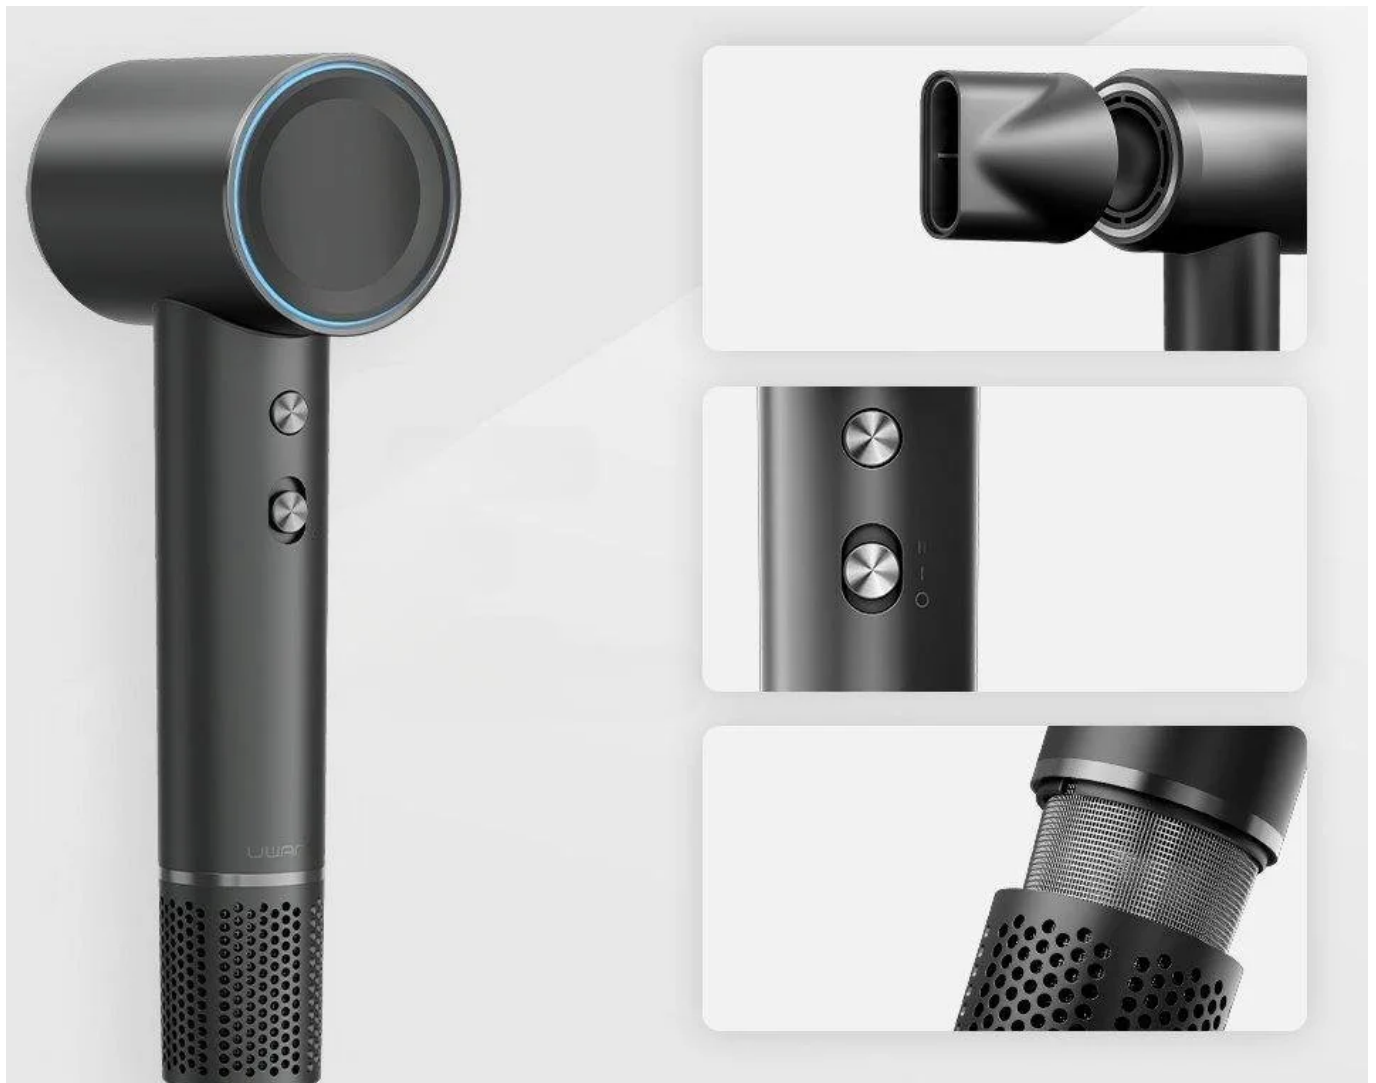

Alternating hot and cold air

The innovative alternating hot and cold air function, which changes every 3 seconds, protects your hair and scalp from overheating while allowing you to style effectively. Just three seconds of pressing and holding the temperature mode toggle button is enough to activate this mode, giving you the control and flexibility to shape the perfect style.

Air circulation and tri-color LEDs

Not only does the UWANT H100 hair dryer offer a unique air circulation function, but it also has implemented tri-color LEDs that visually indicate the temperature mode currently in use. This feature not only makes styling last, but also protects hair from heat damage. A simple button that allows you to change the air circulation mode to hot, warm or cold, provides comprehensive control over the styling process.

Ionization function

Electrifying hair doesn't scare you anymore! UWANT H100 with ionization function effectively reduces static electricity, making it easier to comb and style your hair. Enjoy smooth, shiny hair effortlessly every day.

UWANT

Noise reduction technology

The designers of the UWANT H100 have taken care of every detail, including the operating culture. Thanks to advanced noise reduction technology, the dryer operates extremely quietly, emitting only 58 decibels of noise. This means that drying your hair, even in the late evening, will no longer disturb your household members.
