Full product description

CP960 conference phone

The Yealink CP960 is an enterprise-class conference phone. With its speakerphone elements, the CP960 sets new standards for audio quality and immerses conference participants in every discussion. Combining wide coverage and voice reception without dead zones with Yealink's Noise Proof technology , the CP960 is ideal for everyday business conference calls.

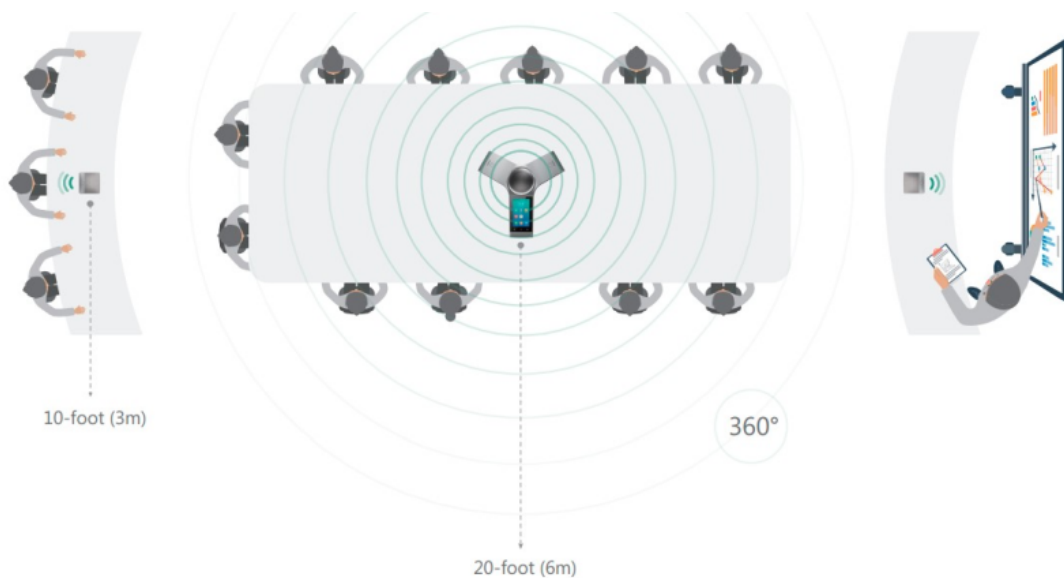

Clear and powerful sound quality

The Yealink CP960 conference phone uses acoustic technologies to make every audio conference incredibly clear and inspiring. Combined with advanced HD voice technology, the Yealink CP960 immerses every conference participant in incredibly clear and balanced audio. The performance-oriented phone faithfully reproduces voices during everyday business conferences.

Wide range of audibility

A pair of Yealink wireless microphones using Yealink's DECT technology can extend voice collection distance up to 60 feet, allowing every meeting participant to be engaged and clearly heard, while optimizing mobility in the local meeting environment.

Yealink Noise Proof Technology

Yealink Noise Proof Technology is a noise reduction technology that frees business conversations from disruptive noise to optimize conference efficiency and minimize distractions. Yealink Noise Proof Technology includes two interrelated features:

- During conferences, Noise Proof reduces constant background noise from sources such as typing, air conditioners, etc.
- When a person is not speaking, Noise Proof automatically mutes the microphone until it recognizes the sound of a human voice.

Ergonomic design

Stylish and professional, the CP960 has a metallic silver body and is made with UV technology. The five-inch, high-resolution 1280x720 multi-touch screen puts fast and smooth control at your fingertips. The sleek hardware and software design adds simplicity and comfort to business conference calls.
