Full product description

Powerful chipsets with Android 9.0

New powerful chipsets bring stability as well as durability to the device to optimize product performance and longevity. With dual system support, the MP56 provides a safe and stable operating environment.

Microsoft Teams

The Yealink MP56 is designed for office workers. Featuring a 7-inch touchscreen for rich visual presentation and easy menu navigation, the MP56 also features a Teams-specific user interface, a dedicated Teams button, key calling features and faster response speed. All this provides users with convenient Teams communication and an efficient office environment.

Professional and sophisticated audio technology

The MP56 combines professional hardware and software technology to deliver crystal clear voice communications. With Yealink Optima HD, Noise Proof technology and full-duplex hands-free speakerphone hardware with AEC handset and HAC, the MP56 provides a superior audio experience in an open workspace.

Simplifying implementation and management

The MP56 offers deployment flexibility with multiple choices of deployment tools from Microsoft, Yealink and Unify square off, as well as auto-provision, making it easy to deploy, administer, upgrade and maintain.
