Full product description

A great budget VOIP phone from Cisco.

Because Cisco is in the market for network technology and has developed many devices and features, it has come up with the perfect budget VOIP phone SPA303-G2 for local area networks. The phone allows up to 3h SIP accounts (extension numbers) to run simultaneously. It is possible to configure BLF, which simplifies conversations in the internal network.

The possibilities of VOIP telephony

Cisco SPA303-G2 phone has two ports (interfaces): WAN and LAN, which allows to use it as a switch for a computer. The device supports connecting headsets of operators, which enables comfortable and pleasant work without distracting unnecessary activities. SPA303-G2 has built-in phonebook, web interface, voice recognition, extensive call control functionality, and supports NAT.
