Durability for years

The construction is based on five solid layers, which makes the tank maintain a low water temperature for a long time. The outer shell is UV and abrasion resistant, allowing use in harsh weather conditions. The heat-insulating foam and PVC layer take care of the watertightness, and the anti-slip layer increases safety when entering. The whole is finished with a waterproof interior coating.

Option to expand the set

For those expecting constant temperature control, the manufacturer has provided dedicated connections. Clearly marked inlets (Water IN) and outlets (Water OUT) allow you to connect an external cooling unit. This allows you to precisely control the degree of water cooling without having to constantly add ice. Note that the cooling unit is not part of the standard package, but the tub is fully ready for it.

Lightweight and large capacity

Despite its impressive dimensions of 160 cm in length and a capacity of about 500 liters, the whole thing weighs only 4.2 kg. Such a specification makes transporting and carrying the tub in the included bag no problem. The height of 85 cm allows for comfortable immersion of most figures. In the set you get a complete base to start walruses: a tub, a protective cover and a carrying bag, which makes this product ready for action.

Extralink's walrus tub is a great option for:

- Professional athletes in need of rapid post-workout recovery.
- Health-conscious individuals looking for natural methods to build immunity.
- Enthusiasts of the Wim Hof method and conscious breathing.
- People living under stress, looking for an effective way to "reset" the nervous system.
- Owners of gardens or terraces with limited space for permanent installations.
